

THREE TIPS FOR WISELY SHARING ONLINE INFORMATION

1 Check your bias

Be especially skeptical about information you agree with. Motivated reasoning makes us more likely to accept new information as true if it agrees with what we already believe. Is this information true?

2 Check your emotions

Propagandists want you to share fake information, so they use emotionally engaging content. People are more likely to share posts that cause strong emotions such as anger or awe.

3 Check yourself

Are you sharing information about somebody else? Respect others' privacy and protect your own, too. Pause before sharing to consider the impact of your post.
